

Polteq, passion for testing.

Polteq is the largest independent specialist in software testing in the Netherlands and Belgium and market leader in providing test training. We solve test issues, improve test processes and carry out test assignments for companies and organizations. Software, apps, mobile devices and websites: we test it all. Skilled, flexible and passionate.

All-round test specialist

Are you looking for a one-stop-shop in the field of testing? That delivers. We are it. As an all-round test specialist, we master all expertise within our field. From functional to performance testing and from security to test automation. With a little luck we are located just around the corner. With our local branches, eight in total, we are almost always nearby.

We love our profession. Combining quality and fun to bring your business further: that is what we stand for. And that is also what you can expect from us. We offer insight into risks, create trust in quality and prevent errors. We make every effort to ensure that our customers are satisfied.

Once the founders of our company stood at the cradle of our field. They were pioneers. That urge to innovate is still present at Polteq today. We are happy to lead the way in the development of new test services, methods and instruments. We know what testing was, is and will be!

Polteq supports you with:

- Providing highly skilled test professionals, at any level and in any context (Agile, V-model, Context Driven, Exploratory, etc.);
- The design, execution, control and optimization of tests and test projects;
- The implementation and execution of technical tests such as test automation, performance, security and mobile testing; technical test implementation, among other test automation, performance, security and mobile testing;

- Test outsourcing implementation and management; Independent consultancy on all aspects of testing (organization wide, staffing, functional, tools, etc.);
- A large variety of test training courses (ISTQB, TMAP, iSQI, PAQ, IREB and CMAP certification, but also practical and customized courses).

Polteq strives for partnership, you too?

Polteq is more than just a supplier of test solutions. We see the relationship that we enter into with our clients as a partnership. What does that mean? We do not wait, but proactively assist you. We share requested and unsolicited knowledge, think along and offer support where necessary. We can say that ourselves, but it is much more important that our customers actually experience it. Fortunately that is the case!

Challenge us!

Above all, challenge us. In order to continue to develop ourselves, to share our knowledge and to be a source of inspiration, we challenge ourselves and we want you to do the same. Every day. We want to inspire and be inspired, challenge and be challenged.

Ultimately, we all grow as a result: we as testers and our customers as partners.

Major projects? We don't shy away from it - on the contrary, even.

So: are you challenging us?

"Polteq is not just our supplier, it feels like a partnership. We work together as one team and share a lot of knowledge with each other. We spar, share each other's craftsmanship and get the job done."
